

Maury County Master Gardener's Newsletter

October, 2016

Just for
Your Birds!

Kent Hiday, a biologist and consultant with Wild Birds Unlimited, will be our speaker for our meeting on October 11th. You don't want to miss this special time to get all your questions about birding answered from an expert in the field. Kent runs a Wild Bird Unlimited Nature Shop at 2176 Hillsboro Rd., Franklin, TN. Join us at 6:00 for potluck, 6:30 for our business meeting, and 7:00-8:00 for our guest speaker. Bring a friend!

Plant Swap

Are you getting ready to bring your porch plants inside? Have you been saving cuttings from your coleus, begonias, etc? Why not bring a couple of items to swap with other club members at our next meeting on October 11th? It's a great time to dig up bulbs and fragile roots, or thin beds that have gotten too thick. So find a few things in your garden or potted plants to share with others. We will put our treasures on a table and let those who brought plants be the first to select a prize to take home. Then if anything is left, other members may chose a prize plant as well. It will be fun! Please participate.

Service Project Senior Citizen Bldg.

Thanks to our Master Gardener members and interns for their hard work in cleaning up the landscape in front of the Sr. Citizen Bldg. where we have our meetings.

